Dustin Schrep, Purchasing Manager

"What excites me about ttv is the continuous highest quality of the products and the enormous flexibility and speed in the implementation of individual solutions."

makes a difference

Peter Stricker, Purchaser

"ttv is one of the suppliers who have understood how high our requirements are, not only for the quality of the products, but also for the consulting and process reliability of the projects. And these are solved exceptionally well by ttv."

FENDT

Elisabeth Stürzl, Purchaser

"What we particularly like about working with ttv is their high level of flexibility and willingness to take unusual paths in order to achieve the typical Fendt difference in quality, service life and performance."

Lars-Ferdinand Friedmann, Purchaser

"Due to our enormous global presence, we are dependent on highly flexible suppliers, especially when it comes to drawing-based solutions. And that, in addition to the absolutely process-reliable quality, is the great advantage of ttv!"

Jens Arnold, Project Manager Strategic Purchasing

"The cooperation with ttv automotive has been excellent from the first consultation with Mr. Volker Hirsch through all innovation steps and test procedures to series delivery. This is how we imagine transparent processes and a successful long-term partnership."

BOMAG
FAYAT GROUP

Alexander Dykhnich, Development Designer

"What excites me about ttv is their flexibility and speed in developing coherent solutions. And not only in terms of their products, but also, for example, their ability to perfectly fulfil our logistics requirements with Kanban service providers. This is what real partnerships for success look like for us."

KORDEL®

Jonas Wiebrecht, Purchaser

"We appreciate the professionalism, the consistently high quality and the delivery reliability of our partner ttv. We are also enthusiastic about the fast response time. Because when the going gets tough, Mr Hirsch and his team are always there for us immediately!"

Werner Breitsching, Purchasing Manager

"ttv convinces me time and again with the absolute highest quality and reliability in the supply of series sealing rings. The pronounced customer orientation is a perfect match for us and our team. I look forward to many more projects with the ttv specialists from Illertissen."

Manfred Zillig, Project Manager

"The Dr. Schneider group of companies has established itself as a specialist for first-class products in vehicle interiors - from innovative ventilation systems to highly integrated trims and sophisticated modules for instrument panels and centre consoles. As a strategic and flexible partner to its customers, the company is working today on pioneering solutions for the mobile world of tomorrow - always with a "Focus on Excellence".
